AGNO-DIGEST

AgnoShin at Seyal Forum 2024

We're thrilled to share that Team AgnoShin recently participated in the 2nd edition of the Seyal Forum – Kanavu Meipada Conclave, held on June 14th at Hilton Hotel, Chennai. This prestigious event brought together changemakers, industry leaders, and innovators from across Tamil Nadu and we were proud to be a part of it.

Highlights from the Day:

Our booth received an overwhelming response, and we were excited to engage with so many curious minds and forward-thinkers.

- Strong interest in our flagship AI-powered solutions: AgnoCon & Click2Go
- Meaningful conversations on Customer Experience automation and Digital Transformation

- Deeper validation of our mission solving real-world problems with simplicity, innovation, and empathy

A heartfelt thank-you to every visitor, supporter, and peer who took the time to stop by our booth.

Events like these remind us why we do what we do and strengthen our commitment to building purposeful technology for people.

Here's to more milestones, deeper conversations, and solutions that matter.

Let's keep building. Let's keep serving.

We've Rebranded: AgnolIntel is Now GenAgnol

We're excited to announce that AgnolIntel has officially rebranded to GenAgnol, a new name that reflects our evolving vision, but with the same unwavering commitment to intelligent, AI-powered communication solutions.

Here's to the next generation of intelligent experiences powered by GenAgnol.

THE LEARNING LOOP

Session with Ms. Gomathi on Emerging Coding Methods for CX

Today, our Development and Testing teams came together for an inspiring knowledge-sharing session led by Ms. Gomathi Perumal, focusing on Emerging Coding Methods & Skill Development for Customer Experience (CX).

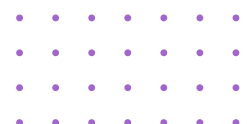

In an AI-driven world, staying ahead means staying curious and this session was a powerful step in that direction.

Key Topics Explored:

- AI-powered development using low-code tools & voice assistants
- Machine learning integration with frameworks like PyTorch
- Real-time experience engineering and hyper-personalization
- Designing intuitive conversational interfaces
- Leveraging assistive technologies for inclusive CX

The session highlighted the importance of:

- Continuous learning
- Hands-on experimentation
- Collaborative innovation

Our teams were encouraged to not just keep up with technology — but to actively shape the future of CX through intelligent development.

Our Culture in Action:

We're proud to foster a culture where learning never stops, and ideas are always welcome. Together, we're building solutions that are smarter, more human, and more impactful.

Here's to growth, together.

Session with Ms. Benita on Essential Of Workplace Behaviour

We're happy to share that our team recently participated in an engaging and insightful session led by Ms. Benita, focused on "Essentials of Workplace Behaviour."

The session served as a timely reminder that technical skills alone aren't enough how we communicate, collaborate, and conduct ourselves at work defines our long-term success.

Key Takeaways from the Session:

- Punctuality & Presence: Emphasized the importance of being dependable and engaged.
- Professionalism: Dress code and respectful communication shape a positive workplace culture.
- First Impressions Matter: Impressions form quickly; appearance and attitude are crucial.
- Effective Communication: Clarity, active listening, and prompt responses build trust.
- Strong Work Ethic & Accountability: Encouraged self-drive, ownership of responsibilities, and continuous learning.

Here's to growing together, professionally and personally.

Our CSR Engagement Honouring Helen Keller Day

On the occasion of the International Day of Deaf-Blindness, Meiporul Chennai Foundation Trust was honoured to participate in a meaningful event that celebrated resilience, inclusion, and the power of accessibility.

We were proud to witness the website launch by the National Association for the Blind – Tamil Nadu State Branch, a step forward in making information and services more inclusive for the deaf-blind community.

A Memorable Visit from Dr. S. Govindarajan

Team AgnoShin had the privilege of hosting Dr. S. Govindarajan, National Commissioner for Persons with Disabilities, Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment, Government of India. The visit was a significant moment in our ongoing commitment to inclusive innovation.

We explored meaningful ways to enhance the accessibility of our products and services, aiming to empower and support Persons with Disabilities (PWD) through thoughtful design and technology. A special thank you to Mr. Vinod Benjamin, Accessibility Tester at TCS, for bringing practical insights and a collaborative mindset to the table.

At AgnoShin, we believe that accessibility is not just a feature, it's a fundamental right. We remain committed to shaping a future where technology is inclusive, empathetic, and empowering for all.
